GENERAL INFORMATION PERTAINING TO WATER RIGHTS IN CALIFORNIA

There are two principal types of surface water rights in California. They are riparian and appropriative rights.

A riparian right enables an owner of land bordering a natural lake or stream to take and use water on his riparian land. Riparian land must be in the same watershed as the water source and must never have been severed from the source of supply by an intervening parcel without reservation of the riparian right to the severed parcel. Generally, a riparian water user must share the water supply with other riparian users. Riparian rights may be used to divert the natural flow of a stream but may not be used to store water for later use or to divert water which originates in a different watershed, or return flows from use of groundwater.

An appropriative right is required for use of water on nonriparian land and for storage of water. Generally, appropriative rights may be exercised only when there is a surplus not needed by riparian water users. Since 1914 new appropriators have been required to obtain a permit and license from the State.

Statements of Water Diversion and Use must be filed by riparian and pre-1914 appropriative water users. The filing of a statement (1) provides a record of water use, (2) enables the State to notify such users if someone proposes a new appropriation upstream from their diversion, and (3) assists the State to determine if additional water is available for future appropriators.

The above discussion is provided for general information. For more specific information concerning water rights, please contact an attorney or write to this office. We have several pamphlets available. They include:

- "Statements of Water Diversion and Use"
- "Information Pertaining to Water Rights in California"
- "Water Rights for Stockponds Constructed Prior to 1969"
- "Appropriation of Water in California"

Shige Okada, Chief

Dear Mr. Okada,

I talked to you on August 2, 1989 in regard to water rights of property at 6155 North Bank Road Crescent City, California 95531 (formerly Rt. 2 Box 1386 Crescent City, Ca. 95531).

We purchased this property from Wendell and Lorraine Batt on August 14, 1984. At that time we filled in water rights papers and sent them to your office.

We have sold the property again and wish to convey these rights to the new owners: Frank and Grace Cooper, 6155 North Bank Rd. Crescent City, Ca. 95531.

The Licence No. is 5129 with (Application No. 14496) Un-named Spring.

We also have water rights on ROCK CREEK that we wish to convey to the Coopers: For diversion of water on Rock Creek No. S 9336. Several months ago we received a questionier from your Board, which we completed and returned. Enclosed are some copies of letters that may be of help to you. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Donald Mortinson
